

QUESTIONS TO ASK ABOUT YOUR AD ACCOUNT

Ask these before you sign with any ad manager, or check them against your current setup. A clear answer to each one should be easy to get.

WHO OWNS THE ACCOUNTS

- ☐ Is the Meta (Facebook and Instagram) ad account owned by my Business Manager, not the agency's?
- ☐ Is the Google Ads account in my business's name, with me as an admin?
- ☐ Am I an admin, not just a viewer, on every ad account, page, and profile?
- ☐ Whose payment method do Meta and Google charge?

WHO OWNS THE PIXEL AND THE DATA

- ☐ Is the Meta pixel (dataset) owned by my Business Manager?
- ☐ Is Google conversion tracking set up inside my own accounts?
- ☐ Do I own the analytics property for my website?
- ☐ Where do lead details go, and can I export them any time?

HOW THE MONEY WORKS

- ☐ Is ad spend billed by Meta and Google directly to me?
- ☐ Is there any markup or percentage taken from ad spend?
- ☐ Is the management fee a flat, written number?
- ☐ Can I log in and see actual spend inside the platforms myself?

WHAT HAPPENS IF WE PART WAYS

- ☐ Do I keep the ad accounts, pixel, campaign history, and audiences?
- ☐ Who owns the ads, images, video, and copy made for my business?
- ☐ How much notice is required, and is it in writing?
- ☐ Will the manager's access be removed cleanly when we end?

HOW TO CHECK IT YOURSELF

Meta: open Business Settings, go to Accounts, then Ad accounts, and look at who is listed as the owner. Then check People to see who has admin access.

Google Ads: open Admin, then Access and security, and confirm your business email is listed as an admin.

If you can't find these screens, or the owner isn't you, ask your current manager to show you. That conversation is worth having either way.

How Arkansas Automated Marketing does it: campaigns run in your own Meta and Google accounts, on your payment method. You keep the pixel, data, and history. Management is a flat $3,000 a month, ad spend is separate, and we take 0% of it.
